

From: ermalee skillman
To: Public Hearing;
CC:
Subject: creating a new wal mart bank
Date: Sunday, April 09, 2006 9:23:01 PM
Attachments:

Please write your message here. Take note of the style tips and talking points in the sidebar. someone broke into my car and stole my purse which contained the last few checks of a 'book'. they didnot have my driverers license nor other ID because those were with me inside the YMCA. they cashed a check at the 24hr wal mart on me for several hundred dollars, another at the Kansas bus station for tickets to North Carolina where they cashed the last check at a bank!!without even knowing all this I immediately got my drivers license number changedI eventually learned that the FDIC protected me on these checksBUT i feel that wal mart placed the FDIC at-risk by being careless how they cashed a forged check with lack of, or improper ID.

I never shop at wal mart because they underpay employees who in turn, must seek help for health care for their families, creating a tax or community burden. Will they do the same with bank staff? Personally i prefer doing business with local merchants, medical staff and Kansas banks and insurance.i hate to see foreign producers come in and use up our precious water to grow hogs or buy out our ethanol plants. we need to keep our independence and rely on our resources. i still have some War Bonds. I wonder if wal mart invests in our government? it would be nice if they treated their employees better. it seems to me they misuse their power and money now already, and would continue this in banking.